

TARIFF PICTURES.
In 1860 the total product of American woolen mills was worth $907,930.913

In 1890 it had grown to $337,768,934

This is an industry which the Free-traders have especially marked out for slaughter. — New York Press.

RESTORE THE PARTY.

New York Press.—The only sure receipt for the restoration of confidence is the restoration of the political party whose defeat was the destruction of confidence.

DEMOCRATIC INTERCENCY.

New York Press.—A number of Democratic newspaper editors are pursuing the late Senator Stanford. They would be wiser if they would stop partisan blackguardism at the gates of the cemetery.

DEMOCRATIC.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat.—The late session of the Illinois Legislature was the longest, costliest and most useless in the history of the state. That is to say, it was distinctly and scandalously Democratic.

NOT APPRECIATED.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat.—The Republicans are rendering a useful service to Cleveland by holding the offices for him until he can make the necessary dickers with the Democrats for the repeal of the Sherman law.

THE GREAT UNCERTAINTY.

New York Press.—The refusal of Speaker Cripp to declare which side of the silver fence he is on, is positive evidence that the repeal of the Sherman law is far from certain. Democratic and Mugwump delusion to the contrary.

NOT A THING.

New York Press.—What's the matter with Speedie as the successor of Blount? He has just as little respect for the wishes of the dominant interests of Hawaii, and he would rather dissolve "Lili" without circumlocution or delay.

FINISH POSITION.

Liberty Herald.—The practice of thoughtlessly and almost indifferently signing petitions is becoming to be one of the most embarrassing evils of the day. As a rule, the average citizen is entirely too free with the use of his name when it comes to the signing of a small matter of attaching it to a petition.

The petition business is being overdone all over the country. It will be a well known fact that many men will sign a petition simply because some friend or clever fellow asks them to do it, while there are others who, rather than come out with a firm and manly no, will attach their names to papers that actually belie their real wishes or sentiments.

The practice of circulating petitions as a means of inducing applicants for place or of obtaining an expression of public sentiment has reached the point where it is so badly abused that petitions are no longer entitled to the consideration that would attach to them. If the abuses to which we have referred were not so generally known to exist.

No man ought to sign a petition, it matters not by whom it is presented, unless it expresses his sentiment, or he conscientiously indorses the cause or the individual in whose interest it is being circulated.

Don't sign a petition simply because you are asked to do it. As a general thing the petition is a nuisance, and is a means resorted to by the worthless and unscrupulous.

THE NEWSPAPER PROFESSION.
Covington Commonwealth.—The legitimate, clean and honest newspaper has become as necessary to the daily demand of civilization as is the physician, the lawyer or the preacher. The elevation of the press has been steady and substantial through the years of rapid progress, until its place is as defined and as dignified as that of any of the so-called professions.

Appropos of these reflections, some remarks by Bishop Spalding at the commencement exercises of the Kentucky School of Medicine at Louisville, are suggestive. Speaking of the profession, he classed them as five, the ministry, medicine, law, teaching and journalism. "The newspaper," he said, "is the growing fifth profession. It is true it has a thousand evils, but it is the fault of the newspaper? It deals in murder, suicides and the like, not because it seeks to spread them before the people, but because the people want such. The editor, with his million-eyed reporter, is fast bringing the newspaper into the professions.

"The newspapers print the advertisements of a great many quack doctors, not because they wish the people to buy their nostrums, but to get revenue, on a paper which is the daily demand for revenue and kill the people. This is probably done on the principle that those who are fit to survive will not take the nostrums, and that those who do take them are not fit to survive.

There is much of this kind of sense and logic in this utterance of the eminent speaker.

SECOND YEAR.

"If you have few words to say, or if you are going to say nothing, please keep it to yourself."

St. Louis Bureau of the Bee Hive has returned from Chicago.

F. H. Armstrong of Lexington is visiting Mrs. Hamilton Gray.

Mrs. Albert and Miss Kathryn Albert returned last night from Chicago.

Charles L. Rousseau left last night for a two weeks business trip to Philadelphia.

Hughes Thomas has returned from an extended visit to different points in Ohio.

Miss Anna Johnson of Mt. Sterling arrived last evening for a visit to Miss Ethelene Wall.

Mrs. R. L. Baldwin and Mrs. Leticia Cartmel left this morning for a visit to the World's Fair.

Miss Louise Andrews of Philadelphia is the guest of Miss Mary Houston January of Front street.

Miss Jessie Owens left this morning for Lexington, where she will be the guest of her sister, Mrs. E. R. Hays.

Mrs. John Otto of Springfield and Mrs. Julia Hote of this city were the guests of Mrs. Harry Day at Carlisle.

Misses Anna and Sophia Trexler left yesterday for an extended visit to Birmingham, Ill. They will also attend the World's Fair.

Misses Ida Hirdes and Ole Wheeler left this morning for an extended trip through the West. On their return they will visit the World's Fair.

Miss Cora Lowry, accompanied by her aunt, Miss Ellen Orr, left this morning for Chicago to visit her grandmother Lowry and the World's Fair. They will be absent about two months.

Misses L. H. Hirdes and Ole Wheeler left this morning for an extended trip through the West. On their return they will visit the World's Fair.

Misses Anna and Sophia Trexler left yesterday for an extended visit to Birmingham, Ill. They will also attend the World's Fair.

Misses Ida Hirdes and Ole Wheeler left this morning for an extended trip through the West. On their return they will visit the World's Fair.

Miss Cora Lowry, accompanied by her aunt, Miss Ellen Orr, left this morning for Chicago to visit her grandmother Lowry and the World's Fair. They will be absent about two months.

Misses L. H. Hirdes and Ole Wheeler left this morning for an extended trip through the West. On their return they will visit the World's Fair.

Misses Anna and Sophia Trexler left yesterday for an extended visit to Birmingham, Ill. They will also attend the World's Fair.

Misses Ida Hirdes and Ole Wheeler left this morning for an extended trip through the West. On their return they will visit the World's Fair.

Miss Cora Lowry, accompanied by her aunt, Miss Ellen Orr, left this morning for Chicago to visit her grandmother Lowry and the World's Fair. They will be absent about two months.

Misses L. H. Hirdes and Ole Wheeler left this morning for an extended trip through the West. On their return they will visit the World's Fair.

Misses Anna and Sophia Trexler left yesterday for an extended visit to Birmingham, Ill. They will also attend the World's Fair.

Misses Ida Hirdes and Ole Wheeler left this morning for an extended trip through the West. On their return they will visit the World's Fair.

Miss Cora Lowry, accompanied by her aunt, Miss Ellen Orr, left this morning for Chicago to visit her grandmother Lowry and the World's Fair. They will be absent about two months.

Misses L. H. Hirdes and Ole Wheeler left this morning for an extended trip through the West. On their return they will visit the World's Fair.

Misses Anna and Sophia Trexler left yesterday for an extended visit to Birmingham, Ill. They will also attend the World's Fair.

Misses Ida Hirdes and Ole Wheeler left this morning for an extended trip through the West. On their return they will visit the World's Fair.

Miss Cora Lowry, accompanied by her aunt, Miss Ellen Orr, left this morning for Chicago to visit her grandmother Lowry and the World's Fair. They will be absent about two months.

Misses L. H. Hirdes and Ole Wheeler left this morning for an extended trip through the West. On their return they will visit the World's Fair.

Misses Anna and Sophia Trexler left yesterday for an extended visit to Birmingham, Ill. They will also attend the World's Fair.

Misses Ida Hirdes and Ole Wheeler left this morning for an extended trip through the West. On their return they will visit the World's Fair.

Miss Cora Lowry, accompanied by her aunt, Miss Ellen Orr, left this morning for Chicago to visit her grandmother Lowry and the World's Fair. They will be absent about two months.

Misses L. H. Hirdes and Ole Wheeler left this morning for an extended trip through the West. On their return they will visit the World's Fair.

Misses Anna and Sophia Trexler left yesterday for an extended visit to Birmingham, Ill. They will also attend the World's Fair.

Misses Ida Hirdes and Ole Wheeler left this morning for an extended trip through the West. On their return they will visit the World's Fair.

Miss Cora Lowry, accompanied by her aunt, Miss Ellen Orr, left this morning for Chicago to visit her grandmother Lowry and the World's Fair. They will be absent about two months.

Misses L. H. Hirdes and Ole Wheeler left this morning for an extended trip through the West. On their return they will visit the World's Fair.

Misses Anna and Sophia Trexler left yesterday for an extended visit to Birmingham, Ill. They will also attend the World's Fair.

Misses Ida Hirdes and Ole Wheeler left this morning for an extended trip through the West. On their return they will visit the World's Fair.

Miss Cora Lowry, accompanied by her aunt, Miss Ellen Orr, left this morning for Chicago to visit her grandmother Lowry and the World's Fair. They will be absent about two months.

Misses L. H. Hirdes and Ole Wheeler left this morning for an extended trip through the West. On their return they will visit the World's Fair.

Misses Anna and Sophia Trexler left yesterday for an extended visit to Birmingham, Ill. They will also attend the World's Fair.

Misses Ida Hirdes and Ole Wheeler left this morning for an extended trip through the West. On their return they will visit the World's Fair.

Miss Cora Lowry, accompanied by her aunt, Miss Ellen Orr, left this morning for Chicago to visit her grandmother Lowry and the World's Fair. They will be absent about two months.

Misses L. H. Hirdes and Ole Wheeler left this morning for an extended trip through the West. On their return they will visit the World's Fair.

Misses Anna and Sophia Trexler left yesterday for an extended visit to Birmingham, Ill. They will also attend the World's Fair.

Misses Ida Hirdes and Ole Wheeler left this morning for an extended trip through the West. On their return they will visit the World's Fair.

MAYSVILLE, KY., THURSDAY, June 29, 1893.

A. K. P. LORR will be instituted at Mt. Olivet tomorrow night. A number from this city will attend.

HON. JOHN H. WILSON has recovered so far as to be able to leave Washington for his home at Marlborough.

THE Maysville Real Estate Company (incorporated) offers for sale lots running in price from $100 to $500. Terms easy.

THOMAS H. CORRIETT of Frankfort goes to Oklahoma as Receiver of Public Money. His appointment will be made July 1st.

The charter of the Carlisle Commandery No. 13, K. T., has been forfeited, and its paraphernalia loaned to Paris Commandery.

VERACH & STEVENS, general merchandise of Quincy, made an assignment yesterday. Liabilities about $2,000; assets about the same.

LEONARD BARTMAN, aged 70, was struck by an Ohio and Ill. Sash engine at Ashland and received injuries from which he cannot recover.

CINCINNATI realtors are becoming a little wary of checks on out-of-town banks in payment of bills. It is considered in this hard Democratic time to know that Maysville's financial institutions are solid.

Called meeting of the Lexington Lodge No. 36, K. of C., this evening at 7:30 o'clock. Important business. Full attendance desired.

John L. Chamberlain, K. E. S.

THERE are many peculiar phases of the damage lately done. At Chattanooga, Tenn., Charles Hamilton, just released from the Work house, was injured for $500 for injury done to his limbs by a light machine.

Miss. TOM JONES resides on the farm of W. H. Hall East of the city. It is the lower of a gold pit, which also suspects was stolen from her home and sold to some one. Anyone having purchased such an article will greatly oblige Mrs. J. by returning same to her. She is willing to pay a premium to the holder for its return.

The funeral of Daniel Sitt, who was killed at Paris by B. B. Hutercher, took place at 4 o'clock Tuesday. The services began by the choir singing "died in the midst of his youth." His widow to go to Hutercher, who was seriously injured by a club in the hands of Sitt, is residing easy and will be able to go on a few days.

This Red, White and Blue Picnic Club has just had a very enjoyable picnic yesterday in honor of Miss Kemper of Cincinnati, Miss Baidridge of Covington and Miss Lawrence of Louisville. Those present were: Spriggs, Hall, Kemper, Thomas, Harker, Thomas, Lawrence, Baidridge, Owens, Oak, Watson, Jones, Darnall, May, Burgess and Messrs. Downing, Hall, T. Hall, Noel, Worley, Kemper, A. Wadsworth and Wells.

ONE-FARE EXCURSIONS.

To the Mountains and Springs of Virginia and West Virginia.

The Chesapeake and Ohio Railway has placed on sale excursion tickets at one fare for the round trip, to be sold every Friday and Saturday, good to return from the mountain and spring resorts, reaching the starting point not later than Tuesday morning.

Tickets and full information may be procured of the ticket agent at Maysville. These tickets are good on all regular passenger trains scheduled to stop at the places named, and will be sold to the following stations: Natural Bridge, Alderson, Fort Spring, White Sulphur, Allegheny, station for the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway.

Hot Springs: Clifton Forge, for the Glades Inn, Millboro, Millboro Hotel, and Hot Springs, for the Rockbridge Alum Springs, Cold Sulphur Springs and the new and elegant hotel Allegheny.

ANGLAND MONEY MATTERS.

Two National Banks suspend and Iron and Steel Works Close.

The Second National Bank of Ashland was forced to close its doors Wednesday morning owing to the financial crisis prevailing throughout the country.

The institution is said to be perfectly solvent, and every depositor will receive back his dollar. This fact is borne out by the books. At present the bank holds $50,000 of gold and silver besides several thousand dollars cash. The deposits amount to about $100,000.

Later in the day the Merchants National also struck the "bottom" of its receipts and had to suspend payments. In order to satisfy its depositors its President and Vice-President were named as personal obligation and the institution was said to be perfectly solvent.

The Norton Iron Works and the Ashland Steel Company have closed down all their works for want of funds and orders.

HUFF-OWENS.

A Quiet Marriage at the Residence of Mr. R. G. Patrick.

As previously announced, Miss L. L. LORR, the marriage ceremony, uniting Charles T. Huff and Miss Leticia C. Owens, was performed last evening at 8 o'clock by Rev. R. G. Patrick.

The wedding was a quiet affair, only a few of the immediate friends and relatives being present.

Mr. and Mrs. Huff left later in the evening by steamer for Charleston, W. Va., where they will spend several days.

They will take up their residence temporarily with the groom's parents on East Second street, Fifth Ward.

Charles Huff is one of the best known young men in the city, and has been for years connected with Power & Reynolds's Postoffice.

The bride is a very charming young lady, daughter of the late L. L. LORR, her husband being a son of the late L. L. LORR. She has the congratulations showered on her by having secured so many a prize.

THE LORR extends best wishes.

WANT AN EXTRA

Secretary Carlisle's Mail Loaded Down With Letters

From Bankers, Commercial Men and Many Others.

Calling on the President to Convene Congress at Once, the Country's Financial Situation is in a Hard Hand.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—Secretary Carlisle's mail Wednesday morning was loaded down with letters from bankers, commercial men and others, calling on the president to convene congress at once in extra session to consider financial legislation. The pressure is great, but there is no official authority for the statement that congress will not be convened before September.

A cabinet officer, speaking of the financial situation said Wednesday morning that the country had been brought to its present financial condition by the very men who were now clamoring for an extra session. They had reached the end of their rope and could no longer profit and thrive by speculation, but they were determined to come to their relief that they might again enter upon an era of speculation. There was no doubt about it, but the country was in a hard hand.

Not a cabinet officer, speaking of the financial situation said Wednesday morning that the country had been brought to its present financial condition by the very men who were now clamoring for an extra session. They had reached the end of their rope and could no longer profit and thrive by speculation, but they were determined to come to their relief that they might again enter upon an era of speculation. There was no doubt about it, but the country was in a hard hand.

Not a cabinet officer, speaking of the financial situation said Wednesday morning that the country had been brought to its present financial condition by the very men who were now clamoring for an extra session. They had reached the end of their rope and could no longer profit and thrive by speculation, but they were determined to come to their relief that they might again enter upon an era of speculation. There was no doubt about it, but the country was in a hard hand.

Not a cabinet officer, speaking of the financial situation said Wednesday morning that the country had been brought to its present financial condition by the very men who were now clamoring for an extra session. They had reached the end of their rope and could no longer profit and thrive by speculation, but they were determined to come to their relief that they might again enter upon an era of speculation. There was no doubt about it, but the country was in a hard hand.

Not a cabinet officer, speaking of the financial situation said Wednesday morning that the country had been brought to its present financial condition by the very men who were now clamoring for an extra session. They had reached the end of their rope and could no longer profit and thrive by speculation, but they were determined to come to their relief that they might again enter upon an era of speculation. There was no doubt about it, but the country was in a hard hand.

Not a cabinet officer, speaking of the financial situation said Wednesday morning that the country had been brought to its present financial condition by the very men who were now clamoring for an extra session. They had reached the end of their rope and could no longer profit and thrive by speculation, but they were determined to come to their relief that they might again enter upon an era of speculation. There was no doubt about it, but the country was in a hard hand.

Not a cabinet officer, speaking of the financial situation said Wednesday morning that the country had been brought to its present financial condition by the very men who were now clamoring for an extra session. They had reached the end of their rope and could no longer profit and thrive by speculation, but they were determined to come to their relief that they might again enter upon an era of speculation. There was no doubt about it, but the country was in a hard hand.

Not a cabinet officer, speaking of the financial situation said Wednesday morning that the country had been brought to its present financial condition by the very men who were now clamoring for an extra session. They had reached the end of their rope and could no longer profit and thrive by speculation, but they were determined to come to their relief that they might again enter upon an era of speculation. There was no doubt about it, but the country was in a hard hand.

Not a cabinet officer, speaking of the financial situation said Wednesday morning that the country had been brought to its present financial condition by the very men who were now clamoring for an extra session. They had reached the end of their rope and could no longer profit and thrive by speculation, but they were determined to come to their relief that they might again enter upon an era of speculation. There was no doubt about it, but the country was in a hard hand.

Not a cabinet officer, speaking of the financial situation said Wednesday morning that the country had been brought to its present financial condition by the very men who were now clamoring for an extra session. They had reached the end of their rope and could no longer profit and thrive by speculation, but they were determined to come to their relief that they might again enter upon an era of speculation. There was no doubt about it, but the country was in a hard hand.

Not a cabinet officer, speaking of the financial situation said Wednesday morning that the country had been brought to its present financial condition by the very men who were now clamoring for an extra session. They had reached the end of their rope and could no longer profit and thrive by speculation, but they were determined to come to their relief that they might again enter upon an era of speculation. There was no doubt about it, but the country was in a hard hand.

Not a cabinet officer, speaking of the financial situation said Wednesday morning that the country had been brought to its present financial condition by the very men who were now clamoring for an extra session. They had reached the end of their rope and could no longer profit and thrive by speculation, but they were determined to come to their relief that they might again enter upon an era of speculation. There was no doubt about it, but the country was in a hard hand.

Not a cabinet officer, speaking of the financial situation said Wednesday morning that the country had been brought to its present financial condition by the very men who were now clamoring for an extra session. They had reached the end of their rope and could no longer profit and thrive by speculation, but they were determined to come to their relief that they might again enter upon an era of speculation. There was no doubt about it, but the country was in a hard hand.

Not a cabinet officer, speaking of the financial situation said Wednesday morning that the country had been brought to its present financial condition by the very men who were now clamoring for an extra session. They had reached the end of their rope and could no longer profit and thrive by speculation, but they were determined to come to their relief that they might again enter upon an era of speculation. There was no doubt about it, but the country was in a hard hand.

Not a cabinet officer, speaking of the financial situation said Wednesday morning that the country had been brought to its present financial condition by the very men who were now clamoring for an extra session. They had reached the end of their rope and could no longer profit and thrive by speculation, but they were determined to come to their relief that they might again enter upon an era of speculation. There was no doubt about it, but the country was in a hard hand.

Not a cabinet officer, speaking of the financial situation said Wednesday morning that the country had been brought to its present financial condition by the very men who were now clamoring for an extra session. They had reached the end of their rope and could no longer profit and thrive by speculation, but they were determined to come to their relief that they might again enter upon an era of speculation. There was no doubt about it, but the country was in a hard hand.

Not a cabinet officer, speaking of the financial situation said Wednesday morning that the country had been brought to its present financial condition by the very men who were now clamoring for an extra session. They had reached the end of their rope and could no longer profit and thrive by speculation, but they were determined to come to their relief that they might again enter upon an era of speculation. There was no doubt about it, but the country was in a hard hand.

Not a cabinet officer, speaking of the financial situation said Wednesday morning that the country had been brought to its present financial condition by the very men who were now clamoring for an extra session. They had reached the end of their rope and could no longer profit and thrive by speculation, but they were determined to come to their relief that they might again enter upon an era of speculation. There was no doubt about it, but the country was in a hard hand.

Not a cabinet officer, speaking of the financial situation said Wednesday morning that the country had been brought to its present financial condition by the very men who were now clamoring for an extra session. They had reached the end of their rope and could no longer profit and thrive by speculation, but they were determined to come to their relief that they might again enter upon an era of speculation. There was no doubt about it, but the country was in a hard hand.

Not a cabinet officer, speaking of the financial situation said Wednesday morning that the country had been brought to its present financial condition by the very men who were now clamoring for an extra session. They had reached the end of their rope and could no longer profit and thrive by speculation, but they were determined to come to their relief that they might again enter upon an era of speculation. There was no doubt about it, but the country was in a hard hand.

Not a cabinet officer, speaking of the financial situation said Wednesday morning that the country had been brought to its present financial condition by the very men who were now clamoring for an extra session. They had reached the end of their rope and could no longer profit and thrive by speculation, but they were determined to come to their relief that they might again enter upon an era of speculation. There was no doubt about it, but the country was in a hard hand.

Not a cabinet officer, speaking of the financial situation said Wednesday morning that the country had been brought to its present financial condition by the very men who were now clamoring for an extra session. They had reached the end of their rope and could no longer profit and thrive by speculation, but they were determined to come to their relief that they might again enter upon an era of speculation. There was no doubt about it, but the country was in a hard hand.

Not a cabinet officer, speaking of the financial situation said Wednesday morning that the country had been brought to its present financial condition by the very men who were now clamoring for an extra session. They had reached the end of their rope and could no longer profit and thrive by speculation, but they were determined to come to their relief that they might again enter upon an era of speculation. There was no doubt about it, but the country was in a hard hand.

Not a cabinet officer, speaking of the financial situation said Wednesday morning that the country had been brought to its present financial condition by the very men who were now clamoring for an extra session. They had reached the end of their rope and could no longer profit and thrive by speculation, but they were determined to come to their relief that they might again enter upon an era of speculation. There was no doubt about it, but the country was in a hard hand.

Not a cabinet officer, speaking of the financial situation said Wednesday morning that the country had been brought to its present financial condition by the very men who were now clamoring for an extra session. They had reached the end of their rope and could no longer profit and thrive by speculation, but they were determined to come to their relief that they might again enter upon an era of speculation. There was no doubt about it, but the country was in a hard hand.

Not a cabinet officer, speaking of the financial situation said Wednesday morning that the country had been brought to its present financial condition by the very men who were now clamoring for an extra session. They had reached the end of their rope and could no longer profit and thrive by speculation, but they were determined to come to their relief that they might again enter upon an era of speculation. There was no doubt about it, but the country was in a hard hand.

Not a cabinet officer, speaking of the financial situation said Wednesday morning that the country had been brought to its present financial condition by the very men who were now clamoring for an extra session. They had reached the end of their rope and could no longer profit and thrive by speculation, but they were determined to come to their relief that they might again enter upon an era of speculation. There was no doubt about it, but the country was in a hard hand.

Not a cabinet officer, speaking of the financial situation said Wednesday morning that the country had been brought to its present financial condition by the very men who were now clamoring for an extra session. They had reached the end of their rope and could no longer profit and thrive by speculation, but they were determined to come to their relief that they might again enter upon an era of speculation. There was no doubt about it, but the country was in a hard hand.

Not a cabinet officer, speaking of the financial situation said Wednesday morning that the country had been brought to its present financial condition by the very men who were now clamoring for an extra session. They had reached the end of their rope and could no longer profit and thrive by speculation, but they were determined to come to their relief that they might again enter upon an era of speculation. There was no doubt about it, but the country was in a hard hand.

